VICTORIA GOLD AND THE NEXT GENERATION

Career Fair at J.V. Clark School - Mayo

On May 26, members of the Victoria Gold team were pleased to participate in the First Nation of Na-Cho Nyak Dün (NND) Career Fair at the Village of Mayo's J.V. Clark School.

Representatives from Victoria Gold's Mine Operations, Human Resources, Environment and Process departments hosted a booth at the event; directly providing community members with available employment opportunities at the Eagle Gold Mine and information about working at the mine and for the Company.

"It was wonderful for the Victoria Gold team to be back in the community and interact with NND citizens and community members about career opportunities at the Eagle Gold Mine and the benefits working there can bring," says Victoria Gold President & CEO John McConnell.

Grade 11 Class Visit to the Eagle Gold Mine

On May 15, teacher Andy Preto brought his Grade 11 Experiential Science (ES) class from Wood Street School in Whitehorse to the mine for a site tour.

Victoria Gold Process department representatives Alex Martin, Chief Metallurgist, Chris Tanner, General Foreman and Mine Operations department representatives Chad Erb and Ryan Noble – both General Foremen – toured the 15 students and two educators with the assistance of Victoria Gold Community Liaison Michelle Dawson-Beattie.

According to one student, on behalf of the class, "I want to thank you for organizing and facilitating the Victoria Gold mining operation tour. It was a once in a lifetime opportunity. I admire the initiative that the company has taken to hire more locals, First Nations people and women. It is really cool to see so much diversity and representation of minorities."
